

FEAR JILTED GIRL MET FOUL PLAY

Friends Defend Somerville Woman Hunted in Slaying

State OK's Pike to Weston Search Widens for Secretary in Murder of Piemonte Niece

IN TONIGHT'S GLOBE

Burgess	42	Radio-TV	34
Comics	42	Serial Story	42
Crane	43	Society	36, 37
Cross-Word	36, 37	Star Gazer	42
Editorial	44	Theater	44, 45
Deaths	44	Twitagram	44
Financial	44	Women's	38, 39

Fights Government Move

Mother Asks Court Block Deportation

SEEKS REVERSAL of order to deport her to Greece, Mrs. Armenouk Baghdasarian, 27, Northbridge, appears in Federal Court here with her husband and daughter, Jacqueline, 5. At right is her attorney, Samuel Abrams.

A young Northbridge mother of two children who faces deportation to her native Greece because she once allegedly attended a Communist meeting in Worcester today resisted the government's move.

Mrs. Armenouk Baghdasarian, 27, arrived in court with her husband, Jerry, a veteran of World War II, and her attorney, Sam Abrams.

Judge George C. Sweeney had canceled Mrs. Baghdasarian's American citizenship in July, 1952, when the woman failed to file an answer to the government's petition.

The young woman now seeks to have Judge Sweeney set aside the cancellation order and grant her a new hearing.

Mrs. Baghdasarian has two children, one 5 and the other 9 months. The government contends that she falsely gave evidence that she was not a member of any organization except the Village Congregational Church, in Northbridge, when she applied for American citizenship in February, 1949. Citizenship was granted in Superior Court, Worcester.

Judge Sweeney deferred the hearing until later today.

Nickerson Field, Riverside, Due to Be Terminus

The Public Works Commission today notified the Massachusetts Turnpike Authority of their tentative approval of the location of the proposed Massachusetts Turnpike with the terminus at Nickerson Field, Riverside, at Route 128 in Weston.

The commissioners, headed by John A. Volpe, in a letter to Chairman of the Turnpike Authority William F. Callahan, announced they had voted the tentative approval at their regular meeting this morning.

The tentative approval was given so that the Turnpike Authority might proceed without delay with county hearings to be held on route locations.

Earlier, the Public Works Commission informed the Authority "it is trusted that further exploration of the location of the route through Framingham and Weston will be made in order that damage to these communities may be held to a minimum."

"It is suggested also," the letter continued "that we jointly give consideration to the question of connection at Springfield as had been originally contemplated when the route was to be a dual way."

"The commission will be happy to give final approval after the public hearings have been held, subject to such modifications as may be deemed desirable in the interests of the cities and towns through which the road is to be located and the Commonwealth as a whole."

SOMERVILLE MURDER VICTIM, Mary DiRocco, 14 (left), slain in Minnesota av. home. At right is Mildred McDonald, sought by police as possible witness who may be able to help solve slaying.

Army Expected to Install Weapons Here Guided Missiles to Protect Key Cities

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25 (AP)—Guided missiles will protect key centers of population and industrial areas in the United States as part of the Army's defense system.

Although it was announced last March that work would start this summer on the setting up of guided missile anti-aircraft units, no details have been divulged on how far the work has progressed, or in what areas it has been undertaken.

No official list of the cities which will get guided missile units has been issued but speculation has centered on a list of areas which include New York, Chicago, Detroit, the Ohio Industrial complex, the Buffalo-Niagara Falls area, Pittsburgh, Philadelphia, San Francisco, Los Angeles, Seattle, Boston,

Washington, Baltimore and others.

It has become known that the Army will require an average of 90 acres for a battalion using the Nike guided missile to protect cities against any swift, high flying enemy bombers. Pronounced "nye-kee," the weapon is named for the winged Goddess of Victory in Greek mythology.

The 1000-mile-an-hour missile is generally supposed to have these features:

An overall length of about 20 feet, a body diameter of approximately 18 inches. Pins which control its flight, similar to those of an airplane, are about three feet in span. The total weight is about 10,000 pounds.

The missile presumably is driven by the thrust generated from the burning of two types of liquid fuel.

Without specifying the Nike, the Army said nearly a year ago enemy planes can dive, climb, bank, loop or turn fast, but the Army's new weapons still will knock them out of the skies.

Search Widens for Secretary in Murder of Piemonte Niece

Miss McDonald Showed Him Gun, Says Brother of Victim

A pretty 25-year-old Somerville woman, sought as a witness in yesterday's sordid slaying of a 14-year-old girl, may have been a foul play victim herself, friends insisted today.

The woman, Mildred McDonald of 9 Lovell st., was seen in the home of Mary DiRocco at 39 Minnesota av., Somerville, before and after the early-afternoon murder, police say.

Mary's body, with five bullet wounds and a knife slash across her throat, was found in the cellar of the home at 1:30 p. m. A smoldering, oil-soaked magazine lay across the body, indicating the murderer attempted to burn the corpse.

Joseph DiRocco, 25, brother of the victim and, they friend of Miss McDonald, told police that the missing woman showed him a fully loaded, 22-caliber target rifle two weeks ago. This is the type of weapon believed to have been used in the slaying.

According to DiRocco, he "dated" Miss McDonald for three years, but they hadn't been seeing each other for several months before he married another woman last April.

Recently the young woman telephoned him several times, Joseph said. She insisted she wanted to see him, and they finally met again Aug. 10. It was then she showed him the gun.

Miss McDonald has worked for eight years at the Union sq. Somerville, office of the State Employment Security Division. She left work yesterday morning, after stating she was ill.

MURDER Page 6

Woman's Body Found Floating in Charles River

WATERTOWN, Aug. 25—The body of a woman identified as Miss Margaret A. Coy, 49, of 107 South st., Waltham, was recovered from the Charles River, near the Watertown Arsenal, this morning.

Police found the woman's coat and a pocketbook piled neatly on the bank of the river nearby. Until recently, she had been employed at the Waltham Watch Company.

Employees of the arsenal who spotted the body floating in the river, called Metropolitan Police who removed it.

Miss Coy is survived by two sisters, Katherine and Theresa Coy.

Shots Halt Milton Youth in Break Try

A college student, resident of Milton, surprised while allegedly in the act of looting a Back Bay television store early this morning, was captured after a chase on foot in which two shots were fired.

Nearly, police found a parked car loaded with a "meat-chandise" which they say the prisoner admitted taking in recent "breaks" in the Back Bay area.

Authorities said the 22-year-old Boston University student was seen making a figure moving about the entrance of the Major Television Shop at 304 Newbury st., and approached to investigate.

Wellesley Woods Searched Police, Boy Scouts Hunt Missing Smith Student

Search for the missing Sylvia Plath, brilliant, beautiful 20-year-old Smith College senior who disappeared yesterday from her home at 26 Elmwood road, Wellesley, was concentrated this afternoon on the heavily wooded area back of Elmwood road and on the shores of Morse's Pond and Lake Waban.

Wellesley police, aided by Boy Scouts and neighbors in the area of the Worcester Turnpike, were carrying on a foot-by-foot search after the Andover State Police bloodhound, Big Sid, had failed to turn up a scent, owing to last evening's heavy rain.

Search for the missing Sylvia Plath, brilliant, beautiful 20-year-old Smith College senior who disappeared yesterday from her home at 26 Elmwood road, Wellesley, was concentrated this afternoon on the heavily wooded area back of Elmwood road and on the shores of Morse's Pond and Lake Waban.

Wellesley police, aided by Boy Scouts and neighbors in the area of the Worcester Turnpike, were carrying on a foot-by-foot search after the Andover State Police bloodhound, Big Sid, had failed to turn up a scent, owing to last evening's heavy rain.

SYLVIA PLATH, missing Wellesley girl.

Scores Haphazard Tactics Sen. Kefauver Asks Bar Sponsor Probe Reforms

By JOAN MCPARTLIN

Charges that the "rights of people have been violated, some Congressional inquiries have been haphazardly carried out and many persons have been harmed unnecessarily," were made today by Senator Estes Kefauver.

He made the accusations in a statement prepared for a panel discussion in Faneuil Hall this afternoon on "To What Extent Do Legislative Investigative Powers Impinge on Civil Liberties?"

The Senator, who headed probably the best known Congressional committee of recent years, admittedly, use their committees.

"Unfortunately, not all legislative investigating bodies act according to this pattern," he continued. "Some are shamefully used by their chairmen and by some of their members. In such cases, the parent body allowed to escape responsibility for the behavior of its offspring."

KEFAUVER Page 10

Comic Dictionary
 FEBRUARY
 "Something often found on tombstones."

Lynn House Afire 5th Time in Week
 LYNN, Aug. 25—Twenty-three occupants of a lodging house in Central av. were driven to the street this morning after two fires were discovered in the building. A total of five fires have been discovered in the same building in a week.

This morning's fire, believed to have been set, was discovered by the landlady, who called firemen. One fire was in a washroom and the other in a cloak dressing room.

First Full Day Home for 6 Ex-P. W.'s Middleboro Vet Feasts on Meal Fit for a King

After years, and in some cases, of seemingly endless waiting, six weary G.I.'s of the first repatriated prisoners of war to arrive home in New England last night following the signing of a Korean armistice, today settled down to their first full day at home with their families and loved ones.

For 21-year-old Sgt. Donald L. Falconetti of 185 Main st., Middleboro, the long, dreary journey from a Communist prisoner of war camp in Korea where he was confined for 2 1/2 years, ended with a warm, friendly reunion with his family and a hero's welcome which proved to be one of the biggest receptions ever held in Middleboro.

And, then came a huge, charcoal-broiled steak, a platter of crisp French fries, corn-on-the-cob dripping with golden butter, a salad fit for a king and steaming, black coffee.

Today, there will be more of the same plus appetizing variations for the young Korean war veteran who has actually gained 15 pounds since his 16-month stay in the prison camp.

RETURNERS Page 35

Department Stores Open Monday, Wednesday Nights

Boston department and specialty stores generally will be open Monday and Wednesday evenings, inaugurating the Fall schedule of evening openings.

Archdiocese Opens Sessions for Educators

The 44th annual Teachers' Institute of the Archdiocese of Boston opened today at Mechanics Building with more than 4000 teachers and administrators from 315 schools of the archdiocese attending.

Logue mass was celebrated in Grand Hall by Rt. Rev. Augustino E. Hickey, vicar general of the archdiocese.

During the sessions, held under the patronage of Archbishop Clough and directed by Bishop O'Leary, diocesan superintendent of schools, the assembled educators will hear a world-famous Gregorian Chorus.

Half of Last Year's Figures Vegetable Prices Drop Sharply

The bottom is dropping out of Massachusetts farm prices, a spokesman for the State Department of Agriculture told the Globe today.

An analysis of last week's vegetable receipts in the Boston wholesale market last week vegetables to the Boston market.

They got a lot more money for last year's drought shrunk crop than they did for this year's bumper crop.

Vegetable sales on the Boston wholesale market last week

Three men, one of them described as "well dressed" by their female victim, staged a $35 robbery at the Neighborhood Cleaners, 187 Falmouth av., Hyde Park, at 2 P.M. today.

Mrs. Roma Blume of 915 Morton st., Mattapan, wife of the proprietor, was alone when one of the men entered the store and handed her a note which said, "Go into the back room. This is a stickup."

She began to cry and he assured her, "I won't hurt you. Just give me the money and go

LAST WEEK OF AUGUST

Take advantage of the markdown sales. Make it a practice to read the advertisements in the Globe every day. To Buy, Sell.

Girl
h. Fedele body of stabbed.
SALE
ATION
S.
CK
WS
995 ALLATION
3109 ALLATION
frack minum
AND Track
omy
R. H.
431.
ONLY
ulars
EEDS
EEDS
EAR
P. M.
WHITES
ANT
HASEI
WET
TS
69 rich

Film Depicts E. German Life Like Nazism

BY DAVID M. NICHOL
BONN, Germany, Aug. 23 (CDN)—AT 10:30 of a bright, summer morning, though somewhat reluctant about missing the sunshine, I went to the preview here of a new German film.
My primary interest was a short that was to be shown, a documentary dealing with the uprising of June 17 in the Soviet-occupied zone. The short was good, but the full-length feature was remarkable.
Under the auspices of one of Bonn's ministries, the Germans have put together a first-class picture record of the striking parallels among modern dictatorships. The title of the film is "Die Farly, Is Always Right."
The theme is the steady development of Communism in the Soviet-occupied zone. The comparisons with methods and activities in the Soviet Union are obvious enough, and are made in considerable detail.
For more effective, however, are the comparisons that are made with the German of Adolf Hitler and the Nazi rule. The flags, the parade, the phrases, the hysteria are almost identical.
Some of the commentary is serious, but much of it is of the savagely satirical variety you find in the best European political cabaret. This is not a film to see for the modern Germany of Chancellor Konrad Adenauer. But less than might be expected in this critical election period.
Significantly, the former German is left out of the scope of the film, and this too fits the temper of the times. With the Allies, primarily the United States, urging the Germans to reform, it is little wonder that they live off readily making a joke of soldiering.

CAPTURE

Continued from the First Page

Harkins said the man gave him an evasive answer when they met in the doorway and then bolted past him and down Herford st.
The officer fired two shots from his revolver as he chased the man into an alley off Herford st. but lost him.
Other police officers, attracted by the shots, converged on the area and trapped the man in a first-floor hallway of an apartment building at 33 Herford st.
After removing the prisoner at gunpoint, the officers located a sedan parked nearby and loaded with merchandise taken from Back Bay homes in recent breaks.
Further investigation of the television store showed the front door had been forced and a television set moved forward preparatory to removing it.

Night Watchman

According to Back Bay police, the student employed as night watchman by a realty trust company of Norway st. The postilion called for him to check the properties owned by the firm and to report from each.
It was between these reports that the student allegedly committed his breaks.
An office of the realty firm said the arrested man had checked in at 110 a. m. and was called by officer Harkins about 2:15 a. m.
Police said the confiscated car is registered to a member of the young man's family in Milton.
The man was booked at Back Bay police station on charges of breaking and entering in the night time and will be held for another day before being arraigned in court to enable police to investigate the case further.
Police allege that the man also broke into Music Suppliers, Inc. of New England, 435 Newbury av. on Aug. 1 and took $100 in electrical appliances.
Many of the appliances have been recovered by police.

Gift Memo:

7-Piece BERRY SET $3.25

Attractive berry set of clear glass, with graceful scalloped edges... Ideal for those summer desserts.

MAIL or PHONE LI 2-3540

Smith Patterson

WASHINGTON AT AVON STREET

WANT PAGES

N. B. C. to Argue School Slate at 2d Meeting

The endorsement committee of the New Boston Committee will meet again tonight in an effort to iron out the controversy over a School Committee slate.
At a heated session last Thursday the N. B. C. civic council became deadlocked over a choice of the slate.
The original slate, proposed was Isadore H. Y. Muchnick, Dr. Patrick J. Foley and Mrs. Alice M. Lyons, all members of the board; attorney Joseph C. Tompkins, of Boston, and George F. Oakes, Boston realtor.
Approximately half the civic council objected to the slate and urged that Joseph Lee substitute for Foley on the slate.
The original slate said it would consist of a blue hostile to Supt. Dennis C. Haley.
Murphy sees Only
Dr. Albert S. Murphy, chairman of the N. B. C. said the endorsement committee will meet at headquarters at 70 Milk st. at 7:30 p. m. at which time the slate would be arrived at which would get tentative support of the committee.
"Any of the politicians expecting that the N. B. C. will be weakened by the process of the democratic process by which the endorsements are arrived at will be sadly disappointed," Murphy said.

Waterway Plans Here Urged on Army Engineers

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23—Sen. Leverett Saltonstall, Rep. of Massachusetts, today urged the Chief of Engineers, United States Army, to include in his next biennial recommendation the improvement of certain waterways in Greater Boston already authorized by Congress but which have never been carried out due to a lack of top priorities.
These improvements were requested by the Maritime Association of the Greater Boston Chamber of Commerce and Mayor Philip J. Crowley of Everett, in the order of their importance, they include the improvement and the widening and dredging of the main shipchannel in the Mystic River to a depth of 35 feet; this was authorized by a Congressional act in 1925; the improvement of the Weymouth-Pure River authorized in 1935 and the extension of the Frederick Road Anchorage in Boston Harbor authorized in 1918.
Senator Saltonstall, explaining the priority given the Mystic River, stated that this body of water carries important commercial traffic, including fuel carriers to the Esso Company, large distributors of commercial and domestic heating oils; the Eastern Gas and Fuel Associates; the Boston & Maine Railroad; the Mystic Iron Works, operators of the only blast furnaces in the New England area and the Montanto Chemical Works.

STUDENT

Continued from the First Page

Miss Plath disappeared from home yesterday, apparently around 5 p. m., after putting a note to her mother saying she was "making a long hike" and would "be back tomorrow."
The mother, Mrs. Aurelia S. Plath, said that her daughter was close to a nervous collapse due to extremely intensive activities.
Not only was she maintaining one of the highest scholastic records at Smith, but also was at work on poetry for submission to nationally known publications. Her work already was appearing in Harpers, Mademoiselle and other magazines and she was the subject of a college feature story in current Mademoiselle.

Mrs. Plath said her daughter was close to a nervous collapse as a result of extremely intensive activities. Not only was she maintaining one of the highest scholastic standings at Smith, but also was at work on poetry for submission to nationally known publications.
Her work already was appearing in Harpers, Mademoiselle and other magazines and she was the subject of a college feature story in current Mademoiselle.
Mrs. Plath became concerned over her daughter's absence at supper-time when Sylvia failed to return. She said her daughter was unwillingly dependable about telephoning her whereabouts. Sylvia was told by her doctor to devote less time to academic activities in the interest of her health, her mother said.

Homemakers to Open Meeting Here Saturday

Homemakers from the United States, Hawaii, Canada and Puerto Rico will gather in Boston Saturday for the week-long 17th National Home Demonstration Council meeting.
Speakers will include Lisa Gerardo of Woodstock, Vt.; Dr. John H. Farley, director of the global education program of Trans-World Airlines; and Mrs. Raymond Syre of Ackworth, Iowa, president of the Associated Country Women of the World.
Charles M. Ferguson, director of the Cooperative Extension Service for the United States Department of Agriculture, will also speak.

Search Favorite Boston Places

A family friend, Col Rex Gary, formerly associated with United States Army Intelligence, assisted Mrs. Plath and her son, Warren, 18, in the search for the girl.
Mrs. Plath said her daughter was fond of taking long hikes along the Charles River, or wandering through Boston Common and the Public Garden, and Boston and Cambridge police sent search parties to these areas.
With Col Gary, Mrs. Plath and Warren themselves came to Boston late last night in the hope of sighting the girl in one of her favorite haunts.
It was emphasized that Sylvia's departure was "completely unlike her" and Mrs. Plath felt certain some form of nervous exhaustion, or collapse may have occurred.
Mrs. Plath said she and other officials of Smith expressed their concern over the girl's absence and referred to her as "one of the most outstanding girls we have."
Mrs. Plath described her daughter as five feet, nine inches tall, weighing about 140 pounds, dark hair, brown eyes, and wearing a light blue skirt and white sleeveless blouse when she left home.

So End Youth Cleared of Armed Robbery

Leon Easterland, 17, of Rutland sq., South End, charged with robbing an ice cream vendor, Albert Kinnon, on Shawmut av., won acquittal on that charge when Judge Jacob Levinsky in his Boston court found no probable cause to believe him guilty of armed robbery. However, he was held on two minor charges which were continued to Friday for disposition. He was charged with carrying a dangerous weapon and with carrying a dangerous weapon.

(Globe Staff Photo by Thomas O'Connor)

SEARCH FOR MISSING GIRL wanted for questioning in Somerville slaying is conducted by, left to right, Detective Capt. Joseph F. Small, State Police Lt. David B. Murphy and Somerville Detective James F. Holmes.

and was joined by two other men who were acting as "look-outs."
Mrs. Blume told police that over the man's arm was a gray sweater which she thought concealed a gun.
Exchange.

Waterway Plans Here Urged on Army Engineers

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23—Sen. Leverett Saltonstall, Rep. of Massachusetts, today urged the Chief of Engineers, United States Army, to include in his next biennial recommendation the improvement of certain waterways in Greater Boston already authorized by Congress but which have never been carried out due to a lack of top priorities.

STUDENT

Continued from the First Page

Miss Plath disappeared from home yesterday, apparently around 5 p. m., after putting a note to her mother saying she was "making a long hike" and would "be back tomorrow."
The mother, Mrs. Aurelia S. Plath, said that her daughter was close to a nervous collapse due to extremely intensive activities.
Not only was she maintaining one of the highest scholastic records at Smith, but also was at work on poetry for submission to nationally known publications. Her work already was appearing in Harpers, Mademoiselle and other magazines and she was the subject of a college feature story in current Mademoiselle.

Homemakers to Open Meeting Here Saturday

Homemakers from the United States, Hawaii, Canada and Puerto Rico will gather in Boston Saturday for the week-long 17th National Home Demonstration Council meeting.
Speakers will include Lisa Gerardo of Woodstock, Vt.; Dr. John H. Farley, director of the global education program of Trans-World Airlines; and Mrs. Raymond Syre of Ackworth, Iowa, president of the Associated Country Women of the World.
Charles M. Ferguson, director of the Cooperative Extension Service for the United States Department of Agriculture, will also speak.

Search Favorite Boston Places

A family friend, Col Rex Gary, formerly associated with United States Army Intelligence, assisted Mrs. Plath and her son, Warren, 18, in the search for the girl.
Mrs. Plath said her daughter was fond of taking long hikes along the Charles River, or wandering through Boston Common and the Public Garden, and Boston and Cambridge police sent search parties to these areas.
With Col Gary, Mrs. Plath and Warren themselves came to Boston late last night in the hope of sighting the girl in one of her favorite haunts.
It was emphasized that Sylvia's departure was "completely unlike her" and Mrs. Plath felt certain some form of nervous exhaustion, or collapse may have occurred.
Mrs. Plath said she and other officials of Smith expressed their concern over the girl's absence and referred to her as "one of the most outstanding girls we have."
Mrs. Plath described her daughter as five feet, nine inches tall, weighing about 140 pounds, dark hair, brown eyes, and wearing a light blue skirt and white sleeveless blouse when she left home.

So End Youth Cleared of Armed Robbery

Leon Easterland, 17, of Rutland sq., South End, charged with robbing an ice cream vendor, Albert Kinnon, on Shawmut av., won acquittal on that charge when Judge Jacob Levinsky in his Boston court found no probable cause to believe him guilty of armed robbery. However, he was held on two minor charges which were continued to Friday for disposition. He was charged with carrying a dangerous weapon and with carrying a dangerous weapon.

Air Force Plans to Drop 6500 Reserve Officers

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23 (AP)—The Air Force will have to drop about 6500 reserve officers, it says, regardless of whether some of them may be inconvenienced by early return to civilian life.
"About 12,000 reserve officers will be let out in the next 60 days, with an estimated 6000 ending their service voluntarily to make way for young men coming out of the Reserve Officers' Training Corps (ROTC) program. The Air Force announced several weeks ago that the action would be necessary.
Air Force spokesman said last night they have received reports that an undetermined number of the reserve officers being dropped will be put to some personal inconvenience. But they said no way out of the difficulty has been found under current strength ceilings and the obligation to make room for ROTC graduates.
Stationed at Top
A large company instituted a profit-sharing plan for its employees. On the day after the plan was announced, one of the vice-presidents returned from lunch and was confronted by his usually timid secretary.
"Mr. Jones," she began, "now that you, financially interested in the company, I'll have to ask you to take shorter lunch periods."—Exchange.

SEARCH FOR MISSING GIRL

wanted for questioning in Somerville slaying is conducted by, left to right, Detective Capt. Joseph F. Small, State Police Lt. David B. Murphy and Somerville Detective James F. Holmes.

Waterway Plans Here Urged on Army Engineers

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23—Sen. Leverett Saltonstall, Rep. of Massachusetts, today urged the Chief of Engineers, United States Army, to include in his next biennial recommendation the improvement of certain waterways in Greater Boston already authorized by Congress but which have never been carried out due to a lack of top priorities.

STUDENT

Continued from the First Page

Miss Plath disappeared from home yesterday, apparently around 5 p. m., after putting a note to her mother saying she was "making a long hike" and would "be back tomorrow."
The mother, Mrs. Aurelia S. Plath, said that her daughter was close to a nervous collapse due to extremely intensive activities.
Not only was she maintaining one of the highest scholastic records at Smith, but also was at work on poetry for submission to nationally known publications. Her work already was appearing in Harpers, Mademoiselle and other magazines and she was the subject of a college feature story in current Mademoiselle.

Homemakers to Open Meeting Here Saturday

Homemakers from the United States, Hawaii, Canada and Puerto Rico will gather in Boston Saturday for the week-long 17th National Home Demonstration Council meeting.
Speakers will include Lisa Gerardo of Woodstock, Vt.; Dr. John H. Farley, director of the global education program of Trans-World Airlines; and Mrs. Raymond Syre of Ackworth, Iowa, president of the Associated Country Women of the World.
Charles M. Ferguson, director of the Cooperative Extension Service for the United States Department of Agriculture, will also speak.

Search Favorite Boston Places

A family friend, Col Rex Gary, formerly associated with United States Army Intelligence, assisted Mrs. Plath and her son, Warren, 18, in the search for the girl.
Mrs. Plath said her daughter was fond of taking long hikes along the Charles River, or wandering through Boston Common and the Public Garden, and Boston and Cambridge police sent search parties to these areas.
With Col Gary, Mrs. Plath and Warren themselves came to Boston late last night in the hope of sighting the girl in one of her favorite haunts.
It was emphasized that Sylvia's departure was "completely unlike her" and Mrs. Plath felt certain some form of nervous exhaustion, or collapse may have occurred.
Mrs. Plath said she and other officials of Smith expressed their concern over the girl's absence and referred to her as "one of the most outstanding girls we have."
Mrs. Plath described her daughter as five feet, nine inches tall, weighing about 140 pounds, dark hair, brown eyes, and wearing a light blue skirt and white sleeveless blouse when she left home.

So End Youth Cleared of Armed Robbery

Leon Easterland, 17, of Rutland sq., South End, charged with robbing an ice cream vendor, Albert Kinnon, on Shawmut av., won acquittal on that charge when Judge Jacob Levinsky in his Boston court found no probable cause to believe him guilty of armed robbery. However, he was held on two minor charges which were continued to Friday for disposition. He was charged with carrying a dangerous weapon and with carrying a dangerous weapon.

filene's

starting tomorrow we're open wednesday nights again as well as monday nights

extra shopping time for you open wednesday 9:15 til 8 p. m.

filene's

cool-ly air-conditioned

sizes 38 to 52!

Luxury late-timer with a twice-the-money look...

satin-swirl rayon crepe slim-dresses $17.95 by Fair Wynne

Elizabeth Arden brings you a wonder-working three-in-one beauty treatment budget boulevard's day-bright dress flatterer is a slim tweedy rayon $8.95 by Pat Perkins

How prettily the wide cowl-draped collar frames your face, gives a cool dressed-up air to this first-of-the-fall dress. And you'll welcome the easy-walk-in kick pleats, front and back. In Everglaze's washable thin-surfaced sheath dress: grey or tan. Misses' sizes 12 to 20; women's 14 1/2 to 24 1/2.

Budget Boulevard, Second Floor

Also Chestnut Hill, Wellesley, Winchester, Belmont, Hyannis.

MAIL THIS COUPON OR CALL Hubard 2-4250 any hour, day or night. In the suburbs call any hour, day or night. Run 2-2000. Address: 2000 Massachusetts Ave., Boston 15, Mass. Phone: 2-2000.

Filene's, Box 1511, Boston, Mass., Dept. 410

Please send me the following day-bright dresses:

now is the time to recondition summer neglected skin

elizabeth arden brings you a wonder-working three-in-one beauty treatment

- Ardena astringent cream plus a gift bottle of Ardena skin lotion $2 plus tax
- Ardena skin lotion both for $2 plus tax

Give yourself a new face... give yourself a new beauty life!

h which the road and the Common-alt outh Try

dent, resident of d while allegedlooting a Back store early this captured after a which two shots

found a parked assorted mer-they say the taking in re-
the Back Bay

id the 22-yearversity student g as a night ne area pulled ween check-ins

nn Harkins first ng man while n Newbury st.,
m. The officer figure moving nce of the Ma-op at 304 New-proached to in-

Page 9

ese essions ators

ual Teachers' Archdiocese of today at Meg with more rs and admin-schools of the ding. A dia-celebrated in
t. Rev. Augus-car general of

ions, held un-ge of Arch-ad directed by O'Leary, dioc-
ent of schools, educators will ed Gregorian anel, "In De-racy," and a do up of first-

Although it was announced last March that work would start this Summer on the setting up of guided missile anti-aircraft units, no details have been divulged on how far the work has progressed, or in what areas it has been undertaken.

No official list of the cities which will get guided missile units has been issued but speculation has centered on a list of areas which include New York, Chicago, Detroit, the Ohio industrial complex, the Buffalo-Niagara Falls area, Pittsburgh,
Philadelphia, San Francisco,
Los Angeles, Seattle, Boston,

using the Nike guided missile to protect cities against any swift, high flying enemy bombers. Pronounced "nye-kee," the weapon is named for the winged Goddess of Victory in Greek mythology.

The 1000-mile-an-hour missile is generally supposed to have these features:

An overall length of about 20 feet, a body diameter of approximately 18 inches. Fins which control its flight, similar to those of an airplane, are about three feet in span. The total weight is about 10,000 pounds.

The missile presumably is driven by the thrust generated from the

Ignore ROK's, Invite India, U.N. Is Urged

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y.,
Aug. 25 (AP)—New Zealand's Leslie Knox Munro called on the U.N. today to ignore South Korea's threatened boycott and recommend the inclusion of India in the Korean Peace Conference.

Munro addressed the General Assembly's 60-nation Political Committee as more countries lined up in support of India.
South Korean foreign minister Y. T. Pyun said yesterday his government would find it impossible to sit in the conference with India unless India was seated with the Communists.

Munro said he could not "believe the government of Korea would jeopardize the conference on the ground of Indian participation." If it does, he said, it would jeopardize its country.

"For the General Assembly to decide its course on the implications of the Korean statement," Munro said, "would mean it has abdicated its independence."

U.N. Page 5

Wellesley Woods Searched Police, Boy Scouts Hunt Missing Smith Student

Search for the missing Sylvia Plath, brilliant, beautiful 20-year-old Smith College senior who disappeared yesterday from her home at 26 Elmwood road, Wellesley, was concentrated this afternoon on the heavily wooded area back of Elmwood road and on the shores of Morses Pond and Lake Waban.

Wellesley police, aided by Boy Scouts and neighbors in the area off the Worcester Turnpike, were carrying on a foot-by-foot search after the Andover State Police bloodhound, Big Sid, had failed to turn up a scent, owing to last evening's heavy rain.

STUDENT Page 9

SYLVIA PLATH, missing
Wellesley girl.

Half of Last Year's Figures Vegetable Prices Drop Sharply

The bottom is dropping out of Massachusetts farm prices, a spokesman for the State Department of Agriculture told the Globe today.

An analysis of last week's vegetable receipts in the Boston market shows that the average price for 13 selected vegetables to the Boston market.

They got a lot more money for last year's drought shrunken crop than they did for this year's bumper crop.

Vegetable sales on the Boston wholesale market last week totaled $182,000. In the same week last year 57,000 fewer bushels of vegetables brought

3 Holdup Men Escape With $35 in Hyde Park

Three men, one of them described as "well dressed" by their female victim, staged a $35 robbery at the Naborhood
Cleansers, 167 Fairmont av.,
Hyde Park, at 2 p. m. today.

Mrs. Rona Blume of 915 Morton st., Mattapan, wife of the proprietor, was alone when one of the men entered the store and handed her a note which said, "Go into the back room.
This is a stickup."

She began to cry, and he assured her, "I won't hurt you.
Just give me the money and go into the back room." She finally went.

HOLDUP Page 9